A HARMLESS WAY TO DARKEN THE HAIR

A Little Sage and Sulphur Makes Gray Hair Vanish—A Remedy for All Hair Troubles.

Who does not know the value of Sage and Sulphur for keeping the hair dark, soft and glossy and in good condition? As a matter of fact, Sulphur is a natural element of hair, and a deficiency of it the hair is held by many scalp specialists to be connected with loss of color and vitality of the hair. Unquestionably, there is no better remedy for hair and scalp troubles, especially premature grayness, than Sage and Sulphur, if properly prepared.

The Wyeth Chemical company of New York put out an ideal preparation of this kind, called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, in which Sage and Sulphur are combined with other valuable remedies for keeping the hair and scalp in clean, healthy condition.

If your hair is losing its color or constantly coming out, or if you are troubled with dandruff or dry, itchy scalp, get a fifty-cent bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur from your druggist, use it according to the simple directions, and see what a difference a few days' treatment will make in the appearance of your hair.

All druggists sell it, under guarantee that the money will be refunded if the remedy is not exactly as represented.

"GREATER WHITE WAY" FOR NEW YORK STATE

New York City's Great White Way, as the brilliantly lighted section of Broadway is called, may soon be outshone by a "Greater White Way" laid out by New York state.

There is a project to light ten miles of the state highways, as an experiment preliminary to illuminating a great circuit from New York City to Buffalo by way of Albany, and then back to the capital through the southern tier of counties, passing through Corning, Elmira and Binghamton.

If carried out, this will be the first undertaking of its kind in the United States—probably in the entire world. It would greatly increase the utility of the roads, making traffic as safe by night as by day.

According to plan, poles of reinforced concrete 45 feet high would be erected at intervals of about 300 feet. It is estimated that the entire installation, including cost of poles, wires and lamps, would be $400,000.

It is expected that water power will be used to generate electricity for the "Greater White Way." Some of this may be obtained from the supply which the state proposes to develop in connection with its large canal, but it is probable that Niagara Falls would be called upon for much of the current, at least on the western part of the circuit.

The recently negotiated waterways treaty between the United States and Great Britain, when it goes into full effect, will make available able the quantity of power necessary for this. The two nations have entered into an agreement that will permanently safeguard the beauty and grandeur of the great cataract, by restricting the water that may be diverted for commercial purposes.

Under an existing law, passed before the treaty was made, use of water on the American side is restricted to 5,600 cubic feet a second out of a total flow of 246,000 cubic feet. As Canada had no regulations at the time the law was passed, the framers also inserted a clause restricting importation of electricity from across the border to 160,000 horse-power. This was done with a view to saving the Horseshoe or Canadian Falls, since practically the only demand for power in Canada at that time was for export to the United States.

The treaty, because it limits definitely the diversion on both sides, contains no restriction upon the importation of electric current from Canada. Therefore, when the treaty is in full effect, American industries will not be deprived of the use of power produced on that side of Niagara river. The net result is that the beauty of Niagara Falls is permanently assured through international agreement, while a scientific arrangement of water rights will make it possible greatly to increase the supply in this country of noiseless, smokeless, cheap and perpetual power for lighting, manufacturing and the operation of the street cars.

there and the Americans were compelled to die in the shallow harbor for 36 hours without food.

Growing desperate, two of the men took one of the canoes and started on a hunt for milk for the baby. They succeeded in getting the milk and food for the party, but their boat was riddled with bullets by rebels from the shore as they were seeking to join the party.

After a long wait, the launch arrived and the refugees were taken to Marazion and thence to Guaymas by steamer.

The Mexican laborers on the Comichi ranch joined the rebels after the ranch had been robbed earlier in the week.

CAPACITY OF SHOPS AT SPARKS TO BE INCREASED

The plans for enlarging the shop buildings of the Southern Pacific company at Sparks may not be carried out this year, but the capacity will be increased in order to make room for the large number of additional men who will be employed as the season advances and increased tonnage makes demands for more and better motive power.

A number of carloads of machinery have been ordered and will arrive within a few weeks. There is ample room for them in the present building by having the machine shop employ a portion of the space that is at present more than adequate for other departments utilized in construction and repair.

The agent with the finest silver polish on the face of the earth.

AUTOMOBILES
NOW BECOMING VERY COMMON

NOT LONG AGO PEOPLE WERE
CURIOUS TO SEE MACHINE
COME INTO CAMP.

Once upon a time in the not too dim distant past, to wit: in the early part of last year, it was such a rare occurrence for a vehicle of any kind to come into town, and so much more rare when that vehicle happened to be an automobile, that people were always intensely interested in the event. No sooner did one drive up to the hotel and stop than everybody wanted to know who the occupants were and what their business.

The official news-gatherer of this paper, having cultivated a more impervious hide than most people, was relied upon to butt-in and find out all about them, and as soon as he had interviewed them was himself interviewed by the balance of the gang.

Often they were mining men, come in to arrange for the annual work on some property they were trying to hold, and when this became known they were immediately besieged by men applying for jobs.

Now, however, since the Nevada Wonder has become a real mine, working a good force of men and turning out bullion in paying quantities, the arrival of a car of two loaded with passengers attracts no particular attention. The occasional question is more likely to be about the make of the car than as to the passengers.

This is one of the differences a little prosperity makes in a mining camp. If a few more of the companies which have good mineral showings would get busy, automobiles would become too common to notice at all.—Wander News.

HEYMAN SISTERS A DRAWING CARD
AT THE BUTLER

The Heyman Sisters simply captivated and held the audience spell-bound last night at the Butler theater, from the tremendous applause and encores they received. For tonight they will introduce new songs and dances. Tonight will be shown a very good and interesting program, consisting of a variety of subjects, including drama, comedy and educational. "The Price of a Silver Fox," by Lubin, is a very pathetic story of two young lovers who have a quarrel and Frank goes north to redeem himself. There he loses his eyesight and is given up for dead by his bride. He returns just in time to see her ready to marry another. "Trapped by Wireless" and "The Ace of Spades" are both very good.

Tomorrow night that big special feature, "How States Are Made," will be shown and from the comments, quite a large house will be seen.

BUCKHORN MINE IS TO INCREASE FORCE.

Recent completion of the Eureka & Palisade branch line from Palisades on the Southern Pacific railroad, down to Eureka, has stimulated all the old productive districts along the entire distance. Now it is announced that George Wingfield and his mine manager, Fred Siebert, are looking for in Eureka, and on their arrival are expected to give out plans looking to the greater increase of activity in the Buckhorn mines following the putting into operation of the Eureka & Palisade railroad.

SOLD PERSONAL PROPERTY AT SPIDER AND WASP.

The United States marshal came in on an auto this forenoon and sold the surface improvements at the Spider and Wasp under execution. The bidding was very mild. The splendid 48-horse-power engine and boiler, with the sawmill frame, cable, etc. was knocked down to Dave Crain, the plaintiff in the action, for $250. The buildings, tools, etc. went for about $250 more to the same bidder.—Wander News.
